

Permit # 48308

A photograph of a construction site. A wooden beam is positioned horizontally across the frame. A yellow measuring tape is stretched along the beam, showing measurements in feet and inches. A red and black tool, possibly a level or a square, is attached to the end of the beam. The background is a silver, textured surface, likely insulation or a protective covering. The text "Permit # 48308" is overlaid on the image.
